19. ENFORCEMENT: Enforcement shall be by proceedings at law or in equity against any person or persons violating or attempting to violate any covenants either to restrain violation or to recover damages; if upon the erection of the first improvement upon any of the residential lots which are subject to these restrictions, if disclosed by survey that a minor violation or infringement of the set back lines has occurred, such violation or infringement may be waived by the written consent and waiver of the owners of the residential lots immediately adjoining on either side of the residential lot upon which the violation or infringement occurs and such waiver shall be binding upon all other

This provision shall apply only to the original structure and shall not be applicable to any alterations or repairs to such structure. (b)
