After default, beneficiary shall be entitled to collect all such rents, issues, royalties and profits earned prior to default as his own. Beneficiary may at any time without notice, either in person, by agent, or by attorney, be appointed by a court, and without regard to the adequacy of the security for the indebtedness hereby secured, enter upon and take possession of the above property and collect all such rents, issues and profits, including those already collected, and may sue for and recover the same, less costs and expenses of operation and collection, including reasonable attorney's fees, upon any indebtedness secured hereby, and in such order as he may deem proper.

8. After the lapse of such time as may then be required by law following the recording of said notice of default and giving of said notice of sale, the trustee shall sell said property at the time and place fixed by him in said notice of sale, either as a whole or in separate parcels, and in such order as he may determine, at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States, payable at the time of sale. Trustee may postpone sale of all or any portion of said property by public announcement at such time and place of sale and from time to time thereafter may postpone the sale by public announcement at the time fixed by the preceding postponement. Any person, excluding the trustee but including the grantor and the beneficiary, may purchase at the sale.
