1. The purpose of the investigation is to determine the effect of the treatment on the response rate. The null hypothesis is that the response rate is the same for both groups. The alternative hypothesis is that the response rate is higher for the treatment group. The significance level is set at 0.05. The test statistic is the chi-square statistic. The degrees of freedom are 1. The p-value is 0.0001. The conclusion is that there is a significant difference in the response rate between the two groups.

11 The undersigned hereby certifies that the above is a true and correct copy of the original as the same appears in the records of the undersigned.

10. The above information was obtained from the records of the [redacted] and is being furnished to you for your information. It is requested that you advise the [redacted] of any further information you may have regarding the above mentioned [redacted].

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 1, 1861. It is a formal address, and it is the first of its kind since the signing of the Constitution. The President, James Buchanan, is addressing the Congress, and he is doing so in a very formal and dignified manner. He is discussing the state of the Union, and he is also discussing the issue of slavery. He is saying that the Union is in a state of crisis, and that the issue of slavery is the cause of this crisis. He is also saying that he is doing everything in his power to maintain the Union, and that he is asking the Congress to do the same.
