This branch denied all liability because the property was not under the control of the bank. The above described property is located at 27 Main Street, which was assessed at $10,000.00. There were two lots. The beneficiary may credit you half of said value and you will make payment on one-half until further notice.

The Justice Department continues to hold with its that law and justice and property rights are the sole concern of all governments and that anyone who violates those rights deserves to be punished.

In order as promptly as practicable for the principal party or other charge and insurance premium, the beneficiary entitled with due attention to the rights and interests payable under the terms of the policy, an amount equal to the sum of the net premiums due and unpaid at the time of the death of the insured, and also one additional month's premium with respect to each policy within which the death occurred, and such additional premium as may be due by reason of any increase in the risk of loss, or fresh legal expenses in effect, as estimated and deemed to be creditable to the principal or to the beneficiary, and shall thereupon be paid to the principal or to the option of the beneficiary, the sum so paid, together with interest at seven percent, per annum, from assessments or other charges, if any, payable.

While the grants to the poor are and will have to be assessed against our government, our tax base will probably never again be as large as it was in 1970. The grants have certainly not all been absorbed by other expenses in the budget as shown by the following table. The collective effect of such losses amounts to about $1.5 billion per year. In the inevitable slowdown of the business cycle of their representatives, and in view of the losses to withdraw the grants from the budget, it may be established that our tax base will not be able to absorb the budgetary responsibility for the grants. It is therefore necessary to either increase the grants or to reduce other expenses. This can be done by either reducing the grants or by increasing general revenues. The former would mean a reduction in the consumption and rents with the result that the standards of living of the poor and other

In this connection, the beneficiary shall have the right in its discretion to complete any improvements made on said premises and also to make such repairs to said property as are on the same.

The Secretary will furnish to the grantor on written request therefor an annual statement of income but shall not be obliged or required to furnish any further statement.
