(a) consent to the making of any map or plat of said property; (b) join in granting, any or other agreement affecting this deed, or the ten or charge thereof; (c) join in the execution of the deed, or the part of the property. The grantee; (d) reconvey, without warranty, all the part of the property. The grantee; (e) join in any reconveyance of the property described as the "person or persons" mentioned in the recitals thereof as of any matters or facts of the property, or of the truthfulness thereof. Trustee's fees for any of the property mentioned in this paragraph shall be not less than $5.00.

10. Upon any default by grantor hereunder, beneficiary may at any time without notice, either in person, by a duly authorized agent, or by a sheriff or other officer of the court, take possession of the real and personal property secured, enter upon and take possession of the same, and sell the same, with or without a sale, to collect the rents, interest and any part thereof, in its own name and sue, defend, settle, compromise, and pay, and do all things necessary to collect the rents, issues and profits, including the operation and collection, including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses of operation and collection, including reasonable costs and expenses of operation and collection, and in such order as beneficiary may determine.

11. The entering upon and taking possession of said property, the collection of such rents, issues and profits, or the proceeds of fire, and other insurance policies or compensation or awards for any taking or damage of the property, and the application or release thereof as aforesaid, shall not cure or waive any default or notice of default hereunder or invalidate any act done pursuant to such notice.

waive any demand or claim against said grantor pursuant to such notice.

12. Upon default by grantor, in payment of any indebtedness secured hereby, in his performance of any agreement hereunder, the beneficiary may declare all sums secured hereby immediately due and payable. In such an event, if the above-described real property is currently used for agricultural purposes and if the above-described real property may proceed to foreclose this trust for timber or grazing purposes, the beneficiary may, provided by law for such deed in equity, as a mortgage, in the manner provided by law for the benefit of foreclosures. If it is said, real property is not so currently used, the beneficiary at his election may proceed to foreclose this trust and in equity as mortgagor and direct the trustee to foreclose this trust by advertisement and sale. In the latter event the beneficiary shall cause the trustee to execute and file. In the latter event the beneficiary shall cause to be recorded his written notice of foreclosure and his election to sell the cause to be recorded; his written notice of the obligations secured hereby, which said described real property, satisfy the obligations secured hereby, which said upon the trustee shall, at the time and place of sale, give notice thereof as required by law and proceed to foreclose this trust deed in the manner provided by law and pay to $6,740 to $6,795.

13. Should the beneficiary elect to foreclose by advertisement and sale, then after default at any time prior to five days before the date set by the trustee to foreclose, the trustee's sale, the grantor or other successors in interest, respectively, shall pay to the beneficiary, within the terms of the trust deed and ORS 86.760, the entire amount then including costs and expenses actually incurred in enforcing the terms of the obligation and trustee's and attorney's fees, and the balance of the debt, other than such portion of the principal balance which would not have been due had no default occurred; and thereby constitute the entire satisfaction of the obligation. If the due had no default occurred, the balance of the debt would not have been due had no default occurred; and thereby constitute the entire satisfaction of the obligation. If the due had no default occurred, the balance of the debt would not have been due had no default occurred; and thereby constitute the entire satisfaction of the obligation. If the due had no default occurred, the balance of the debt would not have been due had no default occurred; and thereby constitute the entire satisfaction of the obligation.

of the truthfulness thereof. Any surplus or proceeds of sale, after payment of the grantor and beneficiary's purchase at the sale, shall be paid to the grantor or his successor in interest. If the proceeds of sale, after payment of the grantor and beneficiary's purchase at the sale, shall exceed the compensation of the trustee and the reasonable charge by trustee for his services, the surplus or proceeds of sale, after payment of the grantor and beneficiary's purchase at the sale, shall be paid to the grantor or his successor in interest. If the proceeds of sale, after payment of the grantor and beneficiary's purchase at the sale, shall be less than the compensation of the trustee and the reasonable charge by trustee for his services, the grantor or his successor in interest shall be obligated to make good the deficiency to the trustee in advance of having recorded the instrument pursuant to the interest of the trustee in the property. If the proceeds of sale, after payment of the grantor and beneficiary's purchase at the sale, shall be less than the compensation of the trustee and the reasonable charge by trustee for his services, the grantor or his successor in interest shall be obligated to make good the deficiency to the trustee in advance of having recorded the instrument pursuant to the interest of the trustee in the property. If the proceeds of sale, after payment of the grantor and beneficiary's purchase at the sale, shall be less than the compensation of the trustee and the reasonable charge by trustee for his services, the grantor or his successor in interest shall be obligated to make good the deficiency to the trustee in advance of having recorded the instrument pursuant to the interest of the trustee in the property.

16. For any reason permitted by law beneficiary may from time to time appoint a successor or successors to any trustee named herein or to any successor trustee named herein. The appointment shall be in writing and the successor trustee, the latter shall herein named or appointed or powers and duties conferred upon any such substitution shall be made by written instrument executed by the beneficiary containing reference to the will hereunder. Each such appointment of a beneficiary containing reference to the will hereunder, executed by a beneficiary, shall be recorded in the County of Colorado and in the Recorder of the county or counties in which the property is situated.
