 (Date)

☒ Service of process on that date, respondent not having appeared within the time permitted by law.

☐ Service of process on that date and respondent having appeared.

☐ Respondent on that date having appeared.

The court orders that an interlocutory judgment be entered declaring that the parties are entitled to have their marriage dissolved. This interlocutory judgment does not constitute a final dissolution of marriage and the parties are still married and will be; and neither party may remarry, until a final judgment of dissolution is entered.

The court also orders that, unless both parties file their consent to a dismissal of this proceeding, a final judgment of dissolution be entered upon proper application of either party or on the court's own motion after the expiration of at least six months from the date the court acquired jurisdiction of the respondent. The final judgment shall include such other and further relief as may be necessary to a complete disposition of this proceeding, but entry of the final judgment shall not deprive this court of its jurisdiction over any matter expressly reserved to it in this or the final judgment until a final disposition is made of each such matter. This matter came on regularly for hearing on December 30, 1977, in Department "K" of the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles. The Petitioner, JEANETTE E. JOHNSON, being present with her counsel, PAUL E. GROFF. The Respondent, OSBORNE D. JOHNSON, having failed to appear after having been given proper notice of time and place as required. After oral testimony of Petitioner, JEANETTE E. JOHNSON, and examination of certain letters written by Respondent concerning division of property, the Court finds that based upon the testimony of the parties, and the document presented, the length of the marriage 25 years, with four (4) adult children and one (1) minor child, the following order fairly represents an equitable
